

Notice of Rights, Options and Resources for UCR Students who may have experienced sexual violence or other Prohibited Conduct

You are not alone.

If you have experienced sexual violence or any other form of sex-based harassment, you may not be sure what you want. That is OK. We can help you understand options and connect you with resources.

Help is here.

This document and the other resource documents linked below have information about rights, options, and resources for students who, according to information received by UCR's Office of Civil Rights \(OCR\), may have experienced sexual violence, some other type of sex-based harassment, or retaliation. The table of contents below can help you find what is useful for you, or you may contact us at titleix@ucr.edu.

Resource Documents

What Information?

Importance of Preserving Evidence and Reporting Options

This document urges you to save evidence, whether physical evidence or documents. It also has information on how you may report to us (Office of Civil Rights), if you haven't already, or to law enforcement—or you may choose not to report. UCR will help you report to law enforcement, if you want.

Confidentiality, Anonymity and Retaliation Protection

UCR respects your privacy. This document discusses confidentiality. It also has information on how to report anonymously if you prefer. There is also information about how UCR protects against retaliation.

Supportive Measures, Resources and Restraining Orders

UCR may be able to help you by changing living or working situations and connecting you with campus or Riverside-area resources ranging from counseling to immigration assistance. This document covers these supportive measures and resources. It also explains Restraining Orders and No Contact Orders.

Complaint Resolution Options

This resource document briefly explains how UCR reviews reports and complaints and options to resolve complaints of Prohibited Conduct, such as alternative resolution or formal investigation.

*These resource documents are focused on sexual violence and sexual harassment. Office of Civil Rights can also help you with discrimination and harassment based on race, national origin, disability, or any other characteristic protected by UCR's anti-discrimination policy. To learn more about the different types of harassment and discrimination, visit our Title IX at UCR website or the Office of Civil Rights website.

There is an important UCR office that can help you explore options and resources confidentially without sharing information with OCR or law enforcement: CARE. CARE (Campus Advocacy, Resources & Education) can be contacted at (951) 827-6225 or advocate@ucr.edu
